

Release: April 2003

UACP partners with ASQ to bring Disney Keys to Excellence to Anchorage

University of Alaska Corporate Programs (UACP) provided event marketing, planning, and management services in April when the American Society for Quality hosted the Disney Keys to Excellence program in Anchorage.

“The people at UA Corporate Programs are professional and great to work with,” says Alaska’s ASQ Education Chair Rob Reinchuck. “We highly recommend UACP and look forward to partnering with them in the future.”

“The people at UA Corporate Programs are professional and great to work with,” says Alaska’s ASQ Education Chair Rob Reinchuck.

Contact UACP for event marketing, planning and management services through e-mail corporateprograms@alaska.edu or phone (907) 786-1531. Explore other training opportunities available through UA by contacting Bruce Rowe at 907.786.1168 or bruce.rowe@alaska.edu.

UACP Client Partner Shari Olander receives a gift of appreciation for her work on the ASQ-sponsored event.

Urban Enkvist (CTG), Brenda Parnell (Alaska Native Tribal Health Consortium), Larry Blachut (VECO), Chris Caracci (Disney Facilitator), Richard Mitchells (Restoration Science & Engineering), Rod Reinchuck (Alyeska Pipeline Service Company), and Shari Olander (UA Corporate Programs).