Previous Experience

Lynn Sutton is a 40 year Alaskan. Lynn has been an adjunct instructor with UAA since 1996 and teaches numerous business classes for several different departments. She is the owner of a company called Training With Success. The company specializes in topics such as communication, customer service, conflict resolution, and humor in the workplace, management skills and other "people" topics. Her client list includes oil companies, airlines, state agencies and many small businesses. She also serves as an operational consultant to many of these same firms. Lynn is a firm believer that fun and practicality make learning worth doing. If you can't have a good time along the way, what's the use!

Areas of Expertise

Lynn Sutton's specialty is "practicality" and "people". Her operational and management background give her a unique talent in the development of quality employees.

Public Service

Lynn provides several classes a year for non-profit companies to assist in the training of their staff.
