Culture Shift and Steps to Accountability
“Creating an organizational culture where people embrace their accountability toward one another and toward the organization should occupy center stage in any effort to create successful organization change.”
Our Change Journey

Began with the reading of “The OZ Principle” by Connors & Smith

- Personal Accountability for your success and that of your organization
- Shed excuses
- Quit the Blame Game
- Focus on Key Results you want to achieve
- Create the culture you need to achieve those results
- Create the experiences that will lead to those results
“That’s the way we’ve always done it.”
“It’s not my job”
“I’m waiting for approval.”
“That’s not my department.”
“Why didn’t you ask me?”
“No one invited me to the meeting... I didn’t get the memo.”
“I thought I told you.”
“No one told me what to do.”
Taking Accountability

Above the Line

See and recognize the problem
Own your role in it
Solve it
Act or Do IT

Below the Line

Refusing to see the issue(s)
Acting like it's not your responsibility
Turning a blind eye
The results we achieve are a product of the actions we take. The actions we take are influenced by the beliefs we hold. The beliefs we hold are created by the experiences we have.
