| 2014 09 19 | Pol 05.10.025 | Resident Tuition Assessment | REVISE – to clarify activities or benefits from states other than Alaska that disqualify students from resident tuition. The revisions also address the issues that may arise if an outside institution does not differentiate between resident and non-resident status; C. was included by UA Office of General Counsel in 2008 when UA eliminated the ability for students from specific Canadian provinces to qualify for the non-resident tuition surcharge waiver. It was specifically created to account for any students who might have been promised the waiver prior to the policy change. There should be no students that can claim the promise any longer; therefore, C. is being removed. |
