

In memory of Fred Smits

UAF invites you to make a gift in honor of Fred Smits in remembrance of his long and dedicated service to the University of Alaska Office of Information Technology. Your gifts will allow for scholarship awards to be given to dedicated students in the UAF School of Management MBA program.

Smits, executive director of Infrastructure Technology Services has been with the university since 1997. He came to UA after working as a civilian contractor in information technology for the Saudi Arabian Air Force, and had previously worked for several defense contractors. He has worked with computers since the late 1960's. He served in the U.S. Army in Panama and Vietnam. Smits has a business degree from Pepperdine University and received his MBA from the University of Alaska Fairbanks in December 2010.
