Summary: Applications, Admissions and Enrolled Majors

The total number of Fall semester applications initiated by prospective students increased from 11,173 in 2022 to 19,577 in 2026, reflecting a 75.2 percent (8,404) increase. The acceptance rate for completed applications increased from 66.1 percent in 2022 to 68.19 percent in 2026 (7,386 and 13,333 applications, respectively). From 2025 to 2026, the total number of initiated applications increased by 12.7 percent (2,209), rising from 17,368 to 19,577. The total number of applications initiated, and the total number of applications accepted for Fall 2026 reached a five-year high (Table 1). Fall 2024 marks the first year that UAF participated in the Common Application[1].

Approximately 92.2 percent (18,047) of all Fall 2026 prospective student applications were for undergraduate programs, and 70.5 percent (12,725) of the completed applications were accepted. Among undergraduate applications, 77.4 percent (13,967) were from first-time students, and 69.9 percent (9,756) of completed applications were accepted. Of the total applications for Fall 2026, prospective graduate students accounted for 7.8 percent (1,530). Of these, 39.7 percent (608) of the applications were completed and accepted. (Table 1).

From Fall 2022 to Fall 2026, the total number of unique applicants increased 75.8 percent (7,756) from 10,236 to 17,992 applicants, a five year high. The total number of unique applicants accepted also reached a five year high, increasing 82.0 percent (5,687) over the same period. From Fall 2022 to Fall 2026, newly accepted majors enrolling in the UA system increased by 18.6 percent (774), with a total of 4,926 newly admitted program majors, resulting in an overall enrollment rate of 39.0 percent (Table 2).

Unique undergraduate applicants comprised 92.0 percent (16,544) of the total, with 77.1 percent (12,749) being first-time applicants. Unique undergraduate applicants made up 90.6 percent (4,465) of newly admitted program majors who enrolled, with 37.1 percent of accepted applicants enrolling. Prospective first-time applicants are at a five-year high with an increase of 134.8 percent (7,319) from Fall 2022 to Fall 2026, where almost forty percent of that increase is from 2025 to 2026 (2,759). These applicants had an acceptance rate of 72.5 percent (9,238), and 28.6 percent (2,638) of accepted first-time applicants enrolled, a five-year high (Table 2).

The number of unique graduate applicants reached 1,448 in Fall 2026, a 48.1 percent (470) increase from 978 in 2022. In Fall 2026, graduate applicants accounted for 8.0 percent of the total, with 40.3 percent (583) being accepted. Among accepted graduate applicants, 461 enrolled, representing 79.1 percent of those accepted (Table 2).
