Regents on the move: With the Legislature's failure to confirm the governor's last three appointments to the Board of Regents, farewells were shared with former student Regent Joe Hardenbrook. Joe made a dramatic farewell speech, and regents passed resolutions honoring Hardenbrook and former Regents Mark Begich and Marlene Johnson.

Jim Lynch celebrates 60th birthday in style

Jim Lynch, associate vice president for finance, celebrated his 60th birthday this month, and his colleagues threw him a party. Ever the good sport, Jim even agreed to wear the special birthday hat provided by Finance department Coordinator Penny Ewalt who planned the party. Many happy returns, Jim.

ARSC Gets First Cray SX-6 To Be Installed in U. S.

Last week ARSC announced the installation of a Cray SX-6 supercomputer, the first of its kind to be installed at a U.S. site. The new system has been installed in the Butrovich computing facility, behind the center's IBM SP. ARSC would like to recognize the hard work of those statewide employees who are frequently called upon to assist with changes to the machine room to support the installation and upgrades of the center's high performance computers.

"For the install of the Cray SX-6 we were under an extremely tight schedule. From the time we received word of the install, we had one week to get the site prepared," said Cray on-site employee John Metzner. "Dave Rohwer's operations group was instrumental in getting the facility ready for the SX-6 delivery. Guy Lee shepherded the electrical install and assisted with the system placement. As always, they did an outstanding job."

"We're very excited about the opportunity to host this new system," said ARSC Technical Services Director Virginia Bedford. "We're fortunate to have a great team of people from ARSC and UA Statewide working together."

More information on the new ARSC system, as well as the official news release, can be found at www.arsc.edu.

ITS Upgrades Meeting Maker

Information Technology Services is advancing Statewide Meeting Maker from version 6 to version 7.1, an improvement that is being made in conjunctionwith migration to a larger capacity server, combining the UAF and Statewide Meeting Maker.

The new server will enable users to schedule meetings between UAF and Statewide people, resources and groups. It also allows users to invite by email people who do not use Meeting Maker. The new server does not have to be taken off-line for backups, so users calendars should always be available, and passwords and data about meetings will be more secure.

The new version, 7.1, supports color printing of calendars so the color-coding of events is preserved in print, better integration with Palm devices, and support for Mac OS 10. Confidentiality is also being improved. Only the owner will view individual calendars, and meeting agendas will be visible only to those invited to the meeting. Each user may modify the default for his or her calendar. Users may choose to make individual calendars visible to administrative assistants, supervisors, department members or any combination thereof.

In addition to navigation tours this week, there will be a training session held on Wednesday, July 3, from 1:30 to 3 p. m. Contact ITS Training at x6261 or email sxtrain@alaska.edu for additional training availability.

For answers to your questions or concerns, contact UA Help Desk, Fairbanks: 474-6306, or toll-free 1-800-478-8226, or email: sxhelp@alaska.edu or the Network Operations Center 24 hours a day at 1-800-910-9650.

Be Alert. Traffic Pattern Changes

Stop It. The two additional stop signs added to the Butrovich parking lot.

The traffic pattern has changed in the East Butrovich parking lot which has been opened to "no decal required" parking. Two new stop signs have been added at the base of the stairway, and the east entrance has been con-verted to two-way traffic. The changes have been made to accommodate summer traffic flow and parking shortages for guests of the UA Museum. Be alert.
