

November 14, 2018

Reminder—Community Meeting Nov. 26

Follow up on theft and trespassing

After last week's email, we received immediate response from the Borough and the community, all of whom were very helpful. Progress has been made in resolving these issues and we are very grateful to the community for your support.

Questions about hunting

A few weeks ago, we addressed some questions about usage on university lands. Although hunting is not permitted, we've heard from you that this is an important issue to the community in Haines. The university is exploring the possibility of hunting on land west of the Chilkat River. Once we have an update, we will share more information as soon as possible.

Reminder about Community Meeting

Please help us spread the word about the upcoming community meeting.

Monday, November 26

7:00-9:00pm

ANB/ANS Hall

Refreshments provided

We will also be available for informal questions and conversation at Mountain Market on Monday morning, Nov. 26 from 9:00-10:30am and again on Tuesday morning, Nov. 27, 9:00-10:30am. Coffee is on us, please stop by! I will be there at each gathering with members of the UA Lands office staff.

The Chamber of Commerce has also invited UA Land staff as guest speakers for their monthly luncheon.

Monday, November 26

12:00-1:00pm, food available for purchase

Aspen Suites

UA Land Office staff passing the torch

Chief Land Officer Christine Klein and Regional Resource Manager Patrick Kelly will be moving on to other adventures at the end of the month. Both are very proud of their team and what they have been able to do for the university. To date, the Land Grant Trust property development activities have paid for more than 9,000 Alaskan students with full scholarships at UA.

Christine and Patrick are working on a smooth transition to hand the reins over to Regional Resources Manager Laura Carmack and Business Manager Elaine Main. Jerry Kilanowski will also continue to bring his 30 years of forestry experience to the team. Laura, Elaine and Patrick will be in Haines at the end of month for the community meeting. Please make sure to stop by for coffee at Mountain Market in the morning to meet Elaine and Laura in person.
