UA Lands—End of Summer Update

We hope this end of summer update finds you well despite the persistence of COVID-19 in our lives.

Land Management continues to navigate its timber projects through the tariff increases between China and the United States and its affects to the Haines Timber Sale. Throughout this quarter, there were tariff exemptions that provided some relief to existing timber sales in Alaska although it did not affect the Haines project.

The uncertainty about the economic recovery during the current coronavirus pandemic has shifted Land Management's focus to timber price forecasts and long-term valuations. The project's details and expectations for the upcoming year are also being reviewed.
