

October 2021

Hello,

We hope you are happy and healthy since our last update in August. Please see our latest update for the Haines community. We're always eager to hear from you and your ideas. Please reach out anytime to UALandHaines@gmail.com.

Sincerely,

Kirsten Henning
Liaison for the UA Land Management Office

Re-evaluating University Land Holdings

As we mentioned before, the timber industry in Southeast Alaska continues to experience disruptions.

Haines Ripinski Trail Easement

In case you missed the last update, the Haines Borough Assembly recently passed a resolution to support the Alaska Division of Forestry's partnership with Haines Huts to apply for a Recreational Trails Program grant to acquire easements through Mental Health Trust and University lands for the Ripinski Trail. The Land Management team is coordinating with the Division of Forestry and Haines Huts on the next steps for acquiring the public easement.

New Land Management Director

We are pleased to announce that the Land Management team has a new director, Adrienne Stolpe. She filled the role previously held by Christine Klein, who you may remember from our community meetings, and retired in December 2018.

New website for Land Management

The University Land Management team recently launched a new department website at www.alaska.edu/ualand that features an interactive map of its properties and a page for the Haines community, click link below. All of the information from the previous Haines site was incorporated and we will continue to update the new site as we move forward.
